

Dear Wedding Couple,

Congratulations! Planning your wedding will be very exciting. Between now and your wedding day you'll have much to think about, and you'll want to take care of things that matter most. This is where I hope to be of help, at least where your photography is concerned.

While my Wedding Photography services are very flexible, with many options and products available, I always provide two professional photographers, including myself. Between us we will endeavour to capture the anticipation, excitement and atmosphere of your wedding day without taking it over or getting in your way. Everything will be faithfully and comprehensively covered from all angles. The finished album will generally show a combination of formal, informal and reportage styles, all images having been carefully and individually post-processed in the studio before you see them. And yes, if you're ordering an album, you get to choose which images make it in!

One important thing to mention is that whatever package you choose, photographic coverage is identical (we take the same photos regardless). During the course of the wedding day itself we will capture several hundred photos, starting with the bride and groom getting ready, walking down the aisle, through the ceremony and signing of the register. Outside we will take as many or as few formal group shots as you require, some on-location portraiture for the wedding couple, then on to the reception venue, the guests, the cake, speeches and the first dance. Our second photographer is always on hand to capture the atmosphere with informal shots of you and your guests. We're yours for the entire day.

I will always arrange a comprehensive pre-wedding chat about one month before your wedding day to discuss all options and details, and to help you choose your album.

I'm proud to be able to supply to you the increasingly popular hardcover, book-bound GraphiStudio Wedding Books, which document your day in a unique, modern way from page to page. Alternatively, you may prefer a high-resolution CD disc of all images ('Digital Negatives') in their final, very high resolution, as well as full personal usage licence of all pictures.

DaveBulow Wedding Photography prices now start at just £750. Please see the information below. Many other options are available. If you have questions or would like to see samples please contact me.
